

Stir fry black pepper beef

Total time 35 mins 20 mins preparation time 15 mins cooking time

Nutritional facts (per portion):
2653 kJ / 633 kcal

Fat: 36 g Protein: 35.2 g
Carbohydrates: 35.9 g

INGREDIENTS

2 portion(s)

250 g	rib-eye beef steak, in strips
150 g	bimi or broccoli, in florets
1	red bell pepper, in strips
1	red onion, in strips
0.5	bunch spring onions, finely sliced
1	clove of garlic, finely diced
15 g	fresh ginger, finely diced
5 tbsp	frying oil
50 ml	black pepper sauce
2 tbsp	Kikkoman Naturally Brewed Soy Sauce
1 tbsp	Kikkoman Toasted Sesame Oil
For the topping
1 tbsp	chives, finely sliced (alternative: fresh coriander, fresh basil)
	A few stalks of curly parsley, leaves plucked off
1	spring onion, finely sliced
	Freshly ground pepper
175 g	basmati rice, cooked

PREPARATION

Step 1

Boil water in a wok, add bimi or broccoli, blanch, remove and drain.

Step 2

Dry the wok and heat 3 tbsp of oil in the wok, add the meat strips, fry quickly and remove.

Step 3

Fry bell pepper and onion strips, then spring onions briefly and remove.

Step 4

Wipe the wok clean and fry garlic and ginger with the remaining oil.

Step 5

Add the sautéed vegetables back in and also the meat.

Step 6

Add black pepper sauce and the bimi or broccoli.

Step 7

Season with Kikkoman soy sauce and Kikkoman toasted sesame oil and mix well.

Step 8

Garnish the meat and vegetables with chives, parsley and fresh spring onion.

Step 9

Drizzle with the sauce remaining in the wok, season with pepper and serve with the cooked basmati rice.